WASHINGTON, DC - Assistant Secretary - Indian Affairs Kevin K. Washburn today announced proposed revisions to tribal transportation regulations to comply with the national surface transportation law known as Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century, or MAP-21, as extended. The Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) will be hosting upcoming tribal consultation sessions on the proposed revisions.

The rule proposes to update regulations at 25 CFR Part 170 that govern BIA's Tribal Transportation Program (TTP) (formerly the Indian Reservation Roads program) to comply with MAP-21. Additionally, the proposed rule reflects changes in the delivery options for the TTP available to tribal governments as well as clarification of the requirements for adding or keeping roads on the National Tribal Transportation Facilities Inventory. In preparing this rule, BIA coordinated closely with the U.S. Department of Transportation Federal Highway Administration and held several consultation sessions with tribes in 2013.
