The research conducted for this phase of work of the Department of the Interior Federal Indian Boarding School Initiative has resulted in the identification of hundreds of boarding schools that have been considered against four criteria. All four criteria must be met for an institution to be considered a Federal Indian Boarding School (FIBS). The four criteria are described below:

Housing - Institution ever described as providing housing or overnight lodging to attendees on site.

Education - Institution ever described as providing formal academic or vocational training or instruction.

Federal Support - Institution ever described as having federal government funds or other support provided to the institution.

Timeframe - Institution operational at any time prior to 1969.

The maps to follow contain the locations identified for schools that met all four criteria and are considered to be a FIBS.

Note that the number of FIBS site locations (451) will be greater than the unique number of FIBS (417) as some schools changed locations over time.

These maps represent FIBS sites identified as of January 1, 2024.
